However, we will look into the matter closely before consummating

Nevertheless, the Social-Democratic platform having promised hospitals for the city, we will make good our pledges. We will do this, no matter what the capitalists and their press may say.

The City of Milwaukee at present has no hospitals, except the Emergency hospital. There people are treated in case of accidents and are supposed to stay only a short time."

There are quite a number of private hospitals in Milwaukre, particullarly those owned by the Roman Catholic church, as St. Mary's, St. Joseph's, the Misericordia, and others.

But all of these institutions are run for private profit or for private stration daties. Let me remind you charity—usually for both. And they should not be run for either, from a that one of the best things that we

This new hospital will be one of the institutions that is going to be owned by the people and managed for the people without taint of "charity" and without attempt to make profit.

And it will be useless for either our capitalistic exploiters-who, of course, have money enough to get the best kind of treatment for them solves and their friends at home-or for certain of our clerical friends who-lave been doing a thriving business in the hospital line-to try to

The members of our capitalist class as a rule eare less about the lives of the workingmen and their familles than the capitalists care about the lives of their horses or dogs, because the death of a workingman or of one of his family usually involves no money loss to the capitalist.

But these capitalists like to hide behind the "amall taxpayers." They like to raise the cry that a purchase like this increases the taxes.

Just to show the hypocrisy of the arguments in this special instance, I want to give a few figurea.

Let us see how much this hospital will increase the taxes. The price asked for the grounds and the building is $175,000 on a land ntract-$10,000 to be paid now, the other $165,000 within twenty years, either in annual installments or as a whole. Suppose we pay in annual installments.

The total assessed valuation of the city for this year is $247.573.150 Then the amount of taxes which the payment of this hospital, including the interest, capital and all, will be less than foor cents annually on the average for every one thousand dollars of valuation for twenty years, even if the city should stay as it is and not grow.

And for this ridiculously small sum we shall have one of the best ho pitals, if not the best, in the country, after the building is properly adapted.

There is not a workingman nor a working woman in town who w not be willing to assess himself or herself for an small a aum in order to get the hospital. There is not a capitalist who on New Year's day did not spend for wine or other cordials' ten times the amount which the taxation for this

Now, the wolves of our society, are afraid openly to declare their contempt for the lives of the workingmen and their children. But they will fight everything that might protect these lives, if it costs a little money. The same fellows are afraid of the tax ferrets, because for years they have cheated the city out of its rightful taxation. Nor is it the intention of the Social-Democratic administration to pas perize the workers by simply making this hospital wholly gratuitous. Whoever is able to pay, should pay the actual cost, as a citizen pays for the cost of water. We know that by doing so the entire standard of the institution will be improved—as things are nowadays.

Rui in case a man, woman or child—for we are going to have men's ho pitals also—is unable to pay, this a all make no difference in the method

Institutions such as we propose are found in all European countries. The Allgemeine Krankeohaus of Vienns is a model of its kind.

As for the question of taxation, I have simply touched upon it in this article to show how little an institution of this kind costs the small tax-

But I will only add as a general remark that of course every ruling class in all ages has refused to pay any taxes and has put all taxes upon the shoulders of the subjugated or conquered class.

However, this country is said to be a free, here everybody is sup-osed to be treated elike by the law. Vet our American cities are ruled h capitalist tax-dodgers, who are making laws to favor capitaliats, real estate ereased by nurighteous legislation and connicoance; for there would be no incentive to wrong, gambling, theft, or cheat, as now, because all would have plenty, equal chance, and confagement to be honest and do right. Self-interest and common interest would unitedly prompt every one to do their best and reach the highest attainment possible; and society would be blessed, and the nation glorified with increased strength and newness of life, as never before. Can such ideal ever be realized?

Well, though archetypical in vision now, let it be romembered that ideals must always enme first and realiza-tions after. Every structure follows after some plan or model. Throughout creation every life and form is first conceived, and then as surely developed and boots. Now it must be admitted that an altruistic governs ment has come into the conception of man, and all over the world it is fast tourished by an all-directing, inmite loce and energy in control, it must as surely thrive, and no power on earth can stay its advance; and its coming must be as actual as human progress, or that the world moves and we may wisely make way for the inevitable. What about the profit system?

So "our friend the enemy" in the Wisconsin city may well be worried over what "the Socialists say," even though they cannot complain of what they do.

The basis for this claim is the fact that women have been under the rule of men longer than subject men have been ruled by oppressors of the rul-ing classes. It is argued that even under Socialism, or in the present Socialist party, men might and will exert a sex-rule over women.

It cannot be denied that human civilization" has been overwhelmingly a male product, and that the men-tality of women has been ruled by men just as the mentality of opof the privileged classes.

It it also true that the rule of men make him, as a rule, stronger than the female.

The economic evolution from capiwith the physiological qualities that make the male sex, as a rule, the physically conflative and stronger however, abolish the use of physiol. Even those bourgeois women, however, abolish the use of physiol-ogical qualities for the economic and political oppression of women.

Historically, then, the sex-struggle cannot mean anything else but the rule of the capitalist class.

The bourgeois suffragists might result and the working ent sexes that are economically and politically equal. They will also conwithin the scope of sociology, for this science deals with mass movements based upon economic causes and retleeted in political struggles.

The Socialist party the world over is pledged to the program of realizing economic and political equality for women as well as men. But the his-themselves is to make other women to the same rights to make other women the Socialist party, no sex-struggle, not the aex-struggle.

Within the Socialist party, no sex-struggle as a mass movement exists. Individual men, who retain much of the male quality of olden days, may discriminate against individual women in the movement, but the official declarations of our party do not sanction such a discrimination. On the contrary, our constitution guarantees the same rights to women and men. Under these circumstances, both women and men in the Socialist party in this party they can work as equals on the having extall Having exported German Alcohol Stills for many yenumbers, and having extall Eastern Agencies, we are successfully for their own independence by working for the overthrow of the capitalist system.

This has given birth to the present movement for women eause they are of the opinion, that women must be taught independence movement. In the United States, this movement is composed of women c all classes, and its principal demand is full political rights with men.

Working women as well as women of the well-to-do classes are interested in this movement. The Socialis party recognizes the necessity and progressiveness of this movement and assists it in word and deed.

Some comrades are of the opinio that a party socialist should work for party and independently of the bourmen just as the mentality of op-pressed men has been ruled by men under certain exceptional circumstances, individual socialists and socialist organizations are justified, or even in over women cannot be attributed ex-clusively to economic causes. For this reason, the class-conscious working women should lay more stress on the class-truggle than on the nex-struggle. The best means of accomplishing aex-cusancipation for themselves is to make other women class-conscious and bring them, into the Socialist party. In this party they can work most successfully for their own independence by working for the overthrow of the capifidist system.

The abolition of class-rule by the Socialist party at the same time carries with it the abolition of sex-rule.

In the Socialist party, women have the same opportunity as men to demonstrate what they can accomplish as economic and political equals. It is altogether up to the women in our party to exert as much influence in its councils as they can wield. If they face with the demand for labor legislation: Our annual industrial casualty list shows a total of 30,000 killed and 500,000 injured. The existing, and long disceedited employers liability law fulls to secure adequate compen-sation to the injured workman, while it throws an unnecessarily heavy charge upon the employer; and, at the same time, the law creates online ited litigation, from a half to a third of the time and expenditure of state and federal courts being taken up with these suits. Workmen and employers agree that we must have a more effective method of adjusting compensation for industrial accidents, and the question to be solved is "What shall be the nature of the law to take its place?"

That question is not yet definitely answered; but state commissions, emassociations, trade unions,

On file in the office of the Social-Democratic Herald are thousands of letters requesting the "History of the Milwanize Socialist Movement, Campaign and Victory."

We have been unable to supply the call to: this information because it exists only as it is scattered through the files of the Social-Democratic Herald and Milwanize capitalist paper.

We have decided to publish the information called for in book form—but:

Historical sketch of Socialist movement in Milwankee, by Victor L. Berger.

Photographs of the conspicuous persons sugaged in the historic struggle.

Fac-simile cuts of the documents attacking the Socialists and Socialism, and the replies thereto, which the Socialists printed by the hundreds of thousands and distributed through the city, and published in the capitalist press at full advertising rates.

What the elected Milwankee Socialists have done and planned for the future.

After the election, November & we confidently expect to be able to write a concluding chapter which will thrill the nation. It will tell of the capture of the kliwaukee county government, and of Berger and Gaylard breaking into congress from the Fourth and Fifth Wisconsin congressional districts, etc.

Can See to Take the Finest Stitch with Electric Light

It's like sewing in broad daylight: You feel no fatigue nor eye strain after hours of work. The clear, steady glow is so much easier on the eyes than a flickering flame. An electric light is so much more convenient. A twitch of the switch turns it on and off.

Under the new schedule of rates it will pay any household in dollars and cents to have the house household in dollars and cents to have the house wired for electric light. Competent contractors do it quickly and nestly at moderate charge. Get full information at any of our offices.

De. F. A. Kraft, health commis-sioner of the city of Milwaukee, will scture under the auspices of the Cre-nation society on Sunday Afternoon, an. 8, 1917. at 3 o'clock, at the 'reia Cameinde hell, Mr. Faunt-tees.

Street railway fares in many cities must be increased in the near future, or some limit must be placed upon the service to be furnished for one fare. This is the unanimous judgment of street railway men, and all others who have thoroughly studied traction conditions as they exist throughout the country. Financial statements of individual companies and statistics compiled by the United Census Bureau for the whole country show clearly that the companies will be unable to meet the constantly increasing demands for service and the increasing cost of production and still continue to carry passengers at present unrenumerative rates of fare.

Reduction of operation costs has reached its limit. For years, experts all over the country have studied every little detail in every branch of street railway operation to reduce its cost. Every economy that practical experience and scientific skill could devise has been applied.

Much money has been saved in this manner, but the saving has been more than offset by the higher cost of materials, labor, fuel and the other items of expense. In spite of all economy, the cost of service has become steadily greater and is constantly increasing.

Street railway men of long experience and experts are convinced that there can be no further reduction of operating costs except by cutting wages. Therefore they feel that relief must be found in higher fares, or limitation of service.

Among those who have studied the sub-ject seriously it is agreed that unless present conditions are changed the cities will be obliged, in time, to provide their own street railway service by municipal ownership and operation. Under this plan all deficits would be made good from the public funds. Losses from street railway operation would fall upon the tax payers.

It is considered reasonably certain that, if the companies continue to operate, one or more of the following changes of method must be put into practice:

a Abolishment of free transfers.

b-Adoption of the zone system of faces used in European cities.

c-Increase in rate of fare.

d-Reduction or abolishment of taxes.

The taxes of The Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company, in fourte years increased 481 per cent. In the sa period the operating revenue increased 242 per cent.

History of the Great Strike
The International Association of Machinists had been doing business with the management for four-years to the satisfaction of both parties. There was a change, however, in the official head of motive power department made in Nov. 1909, and the newof motive power, J. D. Harris, was very arbitrary and refused to reason or consider the men or their wants The men stood it for six months ow ing to the panic, but were forced to walk out of the Haltimore, Md., shops on May 7, 1909, as 97 out of 105 were to be discharged because they rebelled against the arceptance of piece work and Haeris' arbitrary attitude. Two hundred and dwelve men struck May 7, 1000. Every effort was made by officer of the association to avoid a general strike. Harris was backed by his uncle, the third vice president of the road, who dared the association to call a general strike, and finally the general strike was called on the B. & O. main lines on June 2, 1939, involv-ing another 738 men, making a total of 1,050 men who stopped work.

After eleven months : conference without any assurances at all. They refused and information was spread broadcast by the officials that the strikers could never work for the B. Sheet Metal Workers No. 24, Bridge & O. again.

The Man Who Owns Broadway, Raymond Hitchcock's new starring rehicle, is said to be very interesting. It deals with a New York millionaire who has been taken in by a paic of swindlers. He tries to marry off his daughter to the man and anakes up his mind to wed the woman, when his son gets busy. The daughter is in love with an actor who "owns Broadway." The actor recognizes the swindlers as isteamship card sharps, he saves the father from the sharpers and marries the daughter. George M. Cohan is responsible for the book and marries the daughter.
